Notice on Organizing the Capacity Enhancement Training Program for Engineers in Indonesia

To Relevant Units,

To deepen the exchange and cooperation in engineering capacity building between China and Indonesia, the Capacity Enhancement Training Program for Engineers in Indonesia, guided by the China Association for Science and Technology and Persatuan Insinyur Indonesia, hosted by its Continuing Professional Development Committee, would be organized by School of Continuing Education of Tsinghua University and the Tsinghua Southeast Asia Center, co organized by the Indonesian Chinese Chamber of Commerce, and supported by PT HUAWEI Tech Investment. The program is scheduled to take place from November 13-15 in Jakarta, Indonesia. It will leverage Tsinghua University's global influence and international educational resources, inviting experienced academic and industry experts from both China and Indonesia to jointly deliver the training. The goal is to enhance the professional capabilities and international competitiveness of engineers from both countries, while providing high-level engineering and technological talent support for international collaborative projects between China and Indonesia

The relevant details are as follows:

1. Time, Duration, and Location

Registration Time: November 13, 2024 (08:00-09:00)
